

DRESS AND PERSONAL APPEARANCE OF AIR FORCE PERSONNEL

NOTE: AFI 36-2903, 1 April 1996, is supplemented as follows:

SUMMARY OF REVISIONS

This supplement replaces all guidance formerly listed in AFIC Sup 1, AFR 35-10, 1 Feb 93. It identifies the wear of Air Intelligence Agency (AIA) and organizational patches, the wear of T-shirts, beepers, and baseball caps. Provides updated procedures on the proper placement of devices on flightsuits. It applies to all AIA units and AIA-supported units worldwide. This supplement also applies to AIA Air Force Reserve Personnel. This revision incorporates the signature block, previously omitted.

Table 1.1. (Added). When wearing the Gortex jacket, metal rank insignia must be centered on the front tab, except when supplemented by major command (MAJCOM) or installation commanders.

Table 1.3. Note 5 (Added). Commanders and supervisors will not allow AIA personnel to wear civilian clothing as a fund-raising activity. AIA prohibits soliciting money from personnel to wear civilian clothing.

Table 2.2. Line 6. Organizational baseball caps are worn according to the guidance listed in AFI 36-2903. Installation commanders are the final approval authority.

Table 2.2. Line 12. All personnel, with the exception of those units authorized to wear other command patches based on operational control (OPCON) relationships, will wear the subdued AIA patch on the right breast pocket of the battle dress uniform (BDU). Center the patch between the left and right edges and the bottom of the flap and the bottom of the pocket. Subdued unit patches are authorized for wear on the left breast pocket, centered between the left and right edges and the bottom of the flap and bottom of the pocket, unless supplemented by intermediate level headquarters, that is wing, centers, etcetera. If member is authorized to wear the missile badge, security police, or fire protection shield, it will be worn on the left breast pocket in place of the wing, center, or unit patches. Patches will be sewn on. No patches are authorized for wear above the name tape on the BDU. Place patches on the maternity BDU in the same relative position as the BDU. Unit commanders will fund the purchase of unit patches for all enlisted personnel. Morale patches are not authorized for wear with the BDUs. Morale patches include, but are not limited to, specialty patches such as Prime Rib, Prime Beef, etcetera.

Table 2.4. Line 14. Undershirts. AIA personnel are authorized to wear either brown or black T-shirt as a BDU undergarment. Additionally, black crew-neck undershirts, long sleeved black or brown turtlenecks, dickeys, or thermal undershirts are authorized.

Table 2.5.10. (Added). No personal beepers authorized. Only government official beepers issued to personnel are authorized.

3.1.2.1. (Added) Flight and Missile Suits. SA 016 establishes the maximum flying equipment requirements for aircrew members. Organizational commanders or their representatives will prescribe the proper wear of aircrew and missile crew uniforms for all assigned or attached personnel.

THOMAS F. FOLKES, Col, USAF
Director of Personnel